The women grievance& equal opportunity cell conducted seminar on Seminar on Crime against women to make aware and empower them". Speaker discussed the following. According to the National Crime Records Bureau, 93 women get raped every day in India. Women empowerment makes them aware of their rights, strengths and makes them understand that they are not inferior to anyone and must not tolerate any bad behavior. When they know their rights then they can take necessary action in case of any misconduct with them.

The Women Grievance & Equal Opportunity Cell conducted a seminar for first, second, third students on the topic "Ideology of Gender". In this event 60 girl students participated. Speaker discussed these points on gender ideology .Gender ideology refers to attitudes regarding the appropriate roles, rights and responsibilities of men and women in society. Traditional gender ideologies emphasize the value of distinctive roles for women and men where men fulfill their family roles through breadwinning activities and women fulfill their roles through homemaker and parenting activities. Gender ideology also refers to societal beliefs that legitimate gender inequality. Gender ideology is not a variable that ranges from liberal to conservative instead it refers to specific type of belief those that support gender stratification.

The Women Grievance and Equal Opportunity Cell conducted Debate Competition on "Women's Right as Human Rights". In this event 25 students participated. Some students speak about live free from violence, slavery, and discrimination; to be educated; to own property; to vote; and to earn a fair and equal wage. As the now-famous saying goes, "women's rights are human rights." That is to say, women are entitled to all of these rights. Yet almost everywhere around the world, women and girls are still denied them, often simply because of their gender.

The women grievance & equal opportunity cell conducted seminar on Need and Challenges for Women's participation in local governance. Speaker discussed the following. The under-representation of women at any level of governance and decision-making results in a democratic deficit. It has been proven time and again that diverse groups make better decisions. This is particularly true when it comes to a task as challenging as representing the interests of citizens at the local level. Often influencing policies in housing, security, transport, and the economy, local government makes important decisions that affect the lives of women and men. Women's equal participation and representation in local decision-making processes is critical for prioritizing women's practical needs and issues in local governments' agendas and for localizing the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Gender-balanced local councils may be an important step in helping to attain gender balance at the national levels.

The Chief Guest inaugurated the program and spoke a few words on the concept of Gender Equality and Women Empowerment” and he also said that UNICEF says that gender equality “means that men and women, girls and boys, enjoy the same rights, resources and opportunities and protection”. Both men and should be treated exactly alike, and Gender Equality benefits everyone. But unfortunately in India most of the times women they were shown a lot of discrimination especially at jobs and at work place, when women get the same rights as equal to men then only we can say that women are being empowered. Women faculty members also shared their views on the gender equality and expressed that there are more advantages if women are treated equally with men.

Chief Guest inaugurated the program and addressed the students who attended the programme. Students speak about Women's safety involves strategies, practices and policies which aim to reduce gender-based violence (or violence against women), including women's fear of crime and safe spaces. Space which causes fear restricts movement and thus the community's use of the space. Lack of movement and comfort is a form of social exclusion. Conversely, space can also create a sensation of safety and comfort, and can serve to discourage violence. Students conclude that planning and policy around safety should always involve and consider women.
